PEN, PAPER AND INK.

The July number of the Cosmopolitan Magazine departs from its usual make-up and devotes itself largely to fiction, travel and sports. A new southern writer, Robert Yulee Tombs, of Georgia, comes to the front with one of the most spirited sketches of southern life yet published. Julian Hawthorne presents a curious study of the Boston girl, asking of her in his title page "Was it Typical?" Eleanor Sherman Thackara, a daughter of General W. T. Sherman, appears for the first time in the literary world in a discussion of "Three Great Philadelphia Training Schools," and Mrs. Roger A. Fryer considers the constitution of American society in an interesting way. "Trout Fishing in Lake Edward," and the actual experiences of "Trapping a Grizzly," will interest the hunter who proposes to roam the mountain-ranges during the summer. Arthur Sherburne Hardy, one of the most distinguished graduates of the Military Academy, and the author of "Passé Rose," which received last year such favorable criticism in all English-speaking countries, will start this month for Japan with the intention of preparing for the Cosmopolitan some articles on the military forces of that country, to be completely illustrated by photographs and sketches.

Knowledge, a new weekly magazine, occupies a new field, and if it accomplishes what it undertakes, it ought to be indispensable to every owner of a cyclopedia. It proposes to answer the almost infinite number of questions upon which one ordinarily consults a cyclopedia, and fails to find the answer, generally because the cyclopedia is not "up to date"—it was published, probably, five years ago, or maybe ten or more years ago. For instance, Capivi succeeds Bismarck as Chancellor of Germany: who is Capivi? How do you pronounce his name? A terrible storm at Ajm. Where is that? How do you pronounce it? And so on. If you consult any cyclopedia, and fail to find the answer to your question, or you find authorities differing, send a postal card to Knowledge, and send your answer in the next week's issue. The magazine is published in handy form, and a complete index is promised twice a year. A specimen copy will be sent free. The price is $1.00 a year. John B. Alden, publisher, 383 Pearl street, New York, also Chicago and Atlanta.

The statement has been widely circulated, probably by parties who wished it might be true, that John B. Alden, publisher of New York, Chicago, and Atlanta, had joined the "Book Trust," which is trying to monopolize the publication of standard books, and to increase prices from 25 to 100 per cent. Mr. Alden sends word that he has not joined the trust, and there is not and never has been any probability of his joining it. The "Literary Revolution" still goes on. One of the latest issues from his press is "Stanley's Emin Pasha Expedition," by Winters, a very handsome, large-type illustrated volume, reduced in price from $2.00 to 50 cents. This work tells a most interesting and complete story, beginning with the conquest of the Sudan, and continuing through years of African exploration, the revolt of the Mahdi, the siege of Khartoum, with the death of Gordon, the return of Dr. Junker, besides the story of Stanley's own adventures, including his successful relief expedition. John B. Alden, publisher 383 Pearl street, New York, also Chicago and Atlanta.

"Funny!" Well, I should say so! Look at the one in short lace to the knees, rubber boots, bare arms, an immense muff, straw hat, and a beard! "What is it?" Why, that is "A Modern Columbus" in the burlesque of that name given by a dramatic club of the celebrated Seventh Regiment of New York, and these illustrations and accounts of it are in Demorest's Family Magazine for July. The pictures of the six-footers of the Seventh arrayed in feminine togery are about the funniest that have appeared in any magazine for a long time. This number also contains a beautifully illustrated article on the interior of Vice-President Morton's house, which is full of suggestions for modern house-furnishing. The article "Stanley's Rescue of Emin," profusely illustrated, is also of great interest at this time, and "The House-Boat in American Waters" will give a hint to many how to spend the summer.

"Tattooing as a Fine Art" in the June Drake's Magazine is a very interesting account of the practice among the South Sea Islanders of profusely decorating their bodies with permanent color. The article is finely illustrated. "Shorty Brown's Sunday School" is a humorous illustrated sketch of life in a mining camp. Charles Howard Shinn sends a fine character study in "Plume of Shasta, His Mine." A very funny thing is "The Deaf Customer in a Shoe Store." Edward S. Fowler contributes a capital article on "Sights in Havana." Lieut. H. D. Smith's "In Peril" is a story of naval adventure told in a most exciting vein.

The Heat of Summer Time.

The season of the year has come when mortals look for the coolest and thinnest in the land for comfort, and just at this particular time there is no place that attracts the attention of ladies more than the popular Ladies' Furnishing store of Foreman & Crowe. Here our fair readers will find all they may desire in light, cool and comfortable apparel. Their line of summer underwear and hosiery is very fine and complete, and embraces an assortment of these goods such as would be a credit to a Chicago house. Ladies are requested to call and see these goods. Styles are correct and prices are right.

THE FAIRY RING.

CHILDREN'S SONG AND DANCE.

Published through The American Press Association.

J. SIMPSON.

Harry will be Winter wild,
Little Charlie Autumn mild;
Summer, Autumn, Winter, Spring,
Dancing in a fairy ring.

Spring and Summer glide away,
Autumn comes with tresses gray,
Winter hand in hand with Spring,
Dancing in a fairy ring.

Faster, faster, round we go!
While our cheeks like roses glow;
Free as birds upon the wing,
Dancing in a fairy ring.
